She educates the public on human trafficking in the United States and shows how a person can endure horrific conditions and not only survive, but thrive.

Come hear Flores in person as she shares her story of trafficking and her experience while living in an upper-middle class suburb of Detroit. Her story will mesmerize you, and even bring you to tears.

This lecture is being presented as part of the Bishop Imesch 2022 Lecture Series, focused to help end human trafficking. Human trafficking is the second largest crime in the United States. It is appalling that the average age of entry into trafficking is between 12-14 years old. Please join USF and the university’s Sister Sponsors, the Sisters of St. Francis of Mary Immaculate, in trying to educate and end this horrific violence.
